

Rechargeable batteries

GSM desktop phone is designed to be powered from the AC power adaptor. The charging of backup battery in the phone has been well tuned for the specific batteries used in the phone. Standard rechargeable batteries may vary in parameters from type to type and from producer to producer. That is why our phones do not support use of standard rechargeable batteries. Please contact your seller for information about the battery replacement.